

dormakaba Offers New Blended Training Model for Official Certifications

INDIANAPOLIS, October 20, 2020 – From beginner to expert user, the new dormakaba Learning Institute provides an extensive education curriculum that span key industry topics as well as the dormakaba product portfolio.

“We use a blended learning approach that includes both scheduled and on demand courses designed to help users learn what they need, when they need it,” said Cindy Mitchell, Associate Vice President, Training & Education. “Our customers and other industry professionals will find it easier to stay abreast of access control solutions with such a wide range of classes all in one place. We also offer customized training tailored to specific needs.”

Courses fall into five easy-to-access learning methods:

Instructor Led – These in-person trainings combine classroom with hands-on exercises and range from two hours to multi-day, providing an intensive experience for peer-to-peer and hands-on learning. Each course includes a final exam to evaluate competency.

Webinars/Virtual Classes – Scheduled online live sessions are designed to simulate our in-person classroom events in a concise virtual session. Participants may interact with Learning Leaders via chat or voice depending on the number of participants. In addition, we offer Master Classes on various key industry topics. Master Classes are livestreamed from the dormakaba Connections Studio.

eLearning – eLearning courses can be accessed anytime and include AEC Daily Courses with continuing education credits and eLearning through the dormakaba (LMS) learning management system portal. Email training@AMER.dormakaba.com to request access to the dormakaba LMS.

Gamification – Gamification is designed to deliver information in a fun and competitive way so that you can learn in just minutes. These quick games can be played on a phone, tablet, or PC.

Microlearning – Topics offer a short, focused course with multiple lessons. Microlearning is designed for people-on-the-go who choose when and where to access via phone, tablet, or PC.

dormakaba’s new, Learning ebook is available to download. In addition, all courses can be available in both scheduled and custom class settings. Email training@AMER.dormakaba.com to set up custom training sessions.
